1. European Public Health Conference

Malta 2012

The 5th ANNUAL EUROPEAN PUBLIC HEALTH CONFERENCE 2012, co-organised with the Maltese Association of Public Health Medicine and ASPHER, will be organised from 8 to 10 November 2012. The main theme of the conference is All Inclusive Public Health.

We have received more abstracts than last year: 802 single abstracts and 74 workshops. At the moment, the International Scientific Committee is still scoring the abstracts. Each member has to score about 100-150 abstracts. We highly appreciate their contribution to make Malta 2012 a successful conference. On 18 June, the decisions on the abstracts will be available online. The preliminary programme will be available at the end of June.

2. EUPHA update

New institutional members

We are happy to inform you that we have 2 new institutional members:

- Italian Barometer Diabetes Observatory, Rome, Italy
Website: <http://www.creativagroup.info/ibdo/index.php?pagina=Mondragone&Lang=ENG>
- School of Public Health, University of Georgia, Georgia
Website: <http://www.ug.edu.ge/en/index.php>

EUPHA's 1992-2012 prize contest!

To celebrate the 20 years of EUPHA, we launched a prize contest in January. Check out the May question at: http://www.eupha.org/site/projects.php?project\_page=19922012.

For each answer, you will receive a letter, which – if you have answered everything perfectly – will form a word. Send this word between 1 and 5 November to: office@eupha.org

From the correct entries, we will draw 4 winners. The prize to win is the Malta 2012 Conference dinner (free of charge) at the EUPHA president's table.

PHIRE project

The full report of the regional meetings of the Public Health Innovation and Research (PHIRE) project is finalized. This report, summarizing the regional meetings organized during the Copenhagen 2011 conference, is a next big deliverable for the project. After the management meeting next week, the report may be made publicly available via EUPHApedia.

NEW: EUPHA snapshot on the Impact of Alcohol

This snapshot summarizes the abstracts presented at the conferences from 1999-2010 on the Impact of Alcohol. The snapshot was elaborated with the help of Johan Lund, president of the EUPHA section on injury prevention and safety promotion. To download the snapshot, please go to:

http://www.eupha.org/site/publications.php?publications\_page=2

EUPHA is collaborating with the following conference:

Title: 4th Conference on Migrant and Ethnic Minority Health in Europe

Date: 21-23 June 2012

Place: Milan, Italy

More information: www.unibocconi.eu/mighealth2012

EUPHApedia – Building knowledge and capacity together

EUPHApedia

There are now 2674 documents available in the database (increase of 36 from April).
In May, 32 documents were downloaded.

The most recent interesting articles can be found on our opening page: www.eupha.org.

Please feel free to send your feedback to: office@eupha.org

3. Call for proposals, job opportunities

EU Health Prize for Journalists

On 3rd May 2012 the 4th edition of the EU Health Prize for Journalists was launched by the European Commissioner for Health and Consumers, John Dalli.

Articles written on health topics by journalists, published between 25/07/2011 and 31/07/2012 can be submitted via the EU's Health Prize website: http://ec.europa.eu/health-eu/journalist\_prize

The submission deadline is 31/07/2012. The rules and conditions and further information are available via the homepage.

We would be very thankful if you could help us spread the word among journalists by publishing the following links on your website and/or by sharing them with your contacts. Please find the web banners attached (if you need other sizes please let us know).

4. Interesting News

European Skills/Competences, qualifications and Occupations (ESCO)

The European Commission is developing a classification of European Skills/Competences, qualifications and Occupations (ESCO) in close collaboration with stakeholders. ESCO will enhance communication in the labour market and the education/training sector throughout Europe. ESCO will be multilingual, and thus will allow exchanging documents such as job vacancies, CVs or training curricula irrespective of their language. ESCO will be used in practical tools, such as job portals, online career guidance and statistical databases.

In order to revise the contents of the ESCO classification the European Commission relies on the expertise of sectoral Reference Groups. These expert groups are composed of stakeholders with expertise in the specific sector. They will identify occupational areas in the sector and analyse knowledge, skills and competences required by people working in these occupations. Furthermore, the group will review key qualifications in the sector. The result of the Reference Group's work will be a revised content of the ESCO classification that can be used for online job matching and other purposes.

ESCO Secretariat invites stakeholders to propose experts that might join the "Human health and social work activities" Reference Group and actively work on ESCO. Each member of the Reference Group should have expertise in the terminology and structure of occupations, skills/competences and/or qualifications in the specific sector.

If you have the required expertise or if you want to propose someone else as a candidate for the Reference Groups, please fill in the application form until 1 June 2012:

<http://ec.europa.eu/yourvoice/ipm/forms/dispatch?form=escoref1&lang=en>

The World Federation of Public Health Associations (WFPHA) - Addis Ababa Declaration

A call on Global Health Equity

Available online at: <http://bit.ly/JMP6oS>

".....This includes working across sectors and disciplines and in true partnership with communities to:

1. Promote and attain social justice and equity in health by acting through a 'Social Determinants of Health' approach;
2. Accelerate the attainment of national and international development goals by building and redistributing resources to strengthen international, national and local capacity and leadership in public health;
3. Ensure that better context-specific, comprehensive and equitable targets covering universal health coverage and health for all are integrated into and made more visible within the MDGs as soon as possible;
4. Enhance and strengthen, both numerically and in capability, the public health workforce, in addition to developing new and effective strategies to retain qualified health professionals;
5. Combat fraud and corruption, as these are major determinants of health that affect all, but especially the poor and vulnerable;
6. Recognize physical and mental disabilities and injury prevention as critical components of a public health approach to health equity; and,
7. Fulfill their financial pledges in respect of the MDGs and to, in addition, fulfill their pledges with respect to the Paris Declaration and to the political declarations on Non-Communicable Diseases and the Social Determinants of Health....."

10. WHO publications

Noncommunicable diseases prevention and control in the South-eastern Europe Health Network. An analysis of intersectoral collaboration

The greatest burden of disease, at both the global and the European levels, is attributable to noncommunicable diseases. Health-promotion and disease-prevention activities aimed at reducing this burden need to involve non-health sectors and actors. This publication provides an overview of the existing tools for implementing such intersectoral action and highlights the developments in the fields of tobacco and nutrition in south-eastern Europe.

Using the concept of “best buys” – cost-effective action that accelerates results in terms of saving lives, preventing disease and avoiding heavy costs – it contains recommendations on key action to strengthen intersectoral collaboration in the prevention and control of noncommunicable diseases in the future, and guidance specifically for the South-eastern Europe Health Network and Slovenia on designing and implementing joint action to this end. The proposals for action are organized in such a way as to create windows of opportunity for promoting health in all policies.

Social determinants of health and well-being among young people. Health Behaviour in School-aged Children (HBSC) study: international report from the 2009/2010 survey

Candace Currie et al.

The latest addition to a series of Health Behaviour in School-aged Children (HBSC) studies on young people's health, this report presents findings from the 2009/2010 survey on the demographic and social influences on the health of young people (aged 11, 13 and 15 years) in 43 countries and regions in the WHO European Region and North America. Responding to the survey, the young people described their social context (relations with family, peers and school), physical health and satisfaction with life, health behaviours (patterns of eating, tooth brushing and physical activity) and risk behaviours (use of tobacco, alcohol and cannabis, sexual behaviour, fighting and bullying). Statistical analyses were carried out to identify meaningful differences in the prevalence of health and social indicators by gender, age group and levels of family affluence.

The aim was to provide a rigorous, systematic statistical base for describing cross-national patterns, in terms of the magnitude and direction of differences between subgroups, thus contributing to a better understanding of the social determinants of health and well-being among young people, and providing the means to help protect and promote their health.
